A BETTER PLAN. A BETTER FUTURE.

Nigel Farage wants an American-style healthcare insurance system, not our free NHS. Under the Tories, working families are £1,600 worse off. The Tories’ extreme cuts would take spending back to the lowest levels since the 1930s, before the NHS even existed. The worst crisis since records began. Under the Tories, the next generation can do better than the last.
FIVE PLEDGES TO BUILD A BETTER BRITAIN:

1. A STRONG ECONOMIC FOUNDATION
We will balance the books and cut the deficit every year while securing the future of the NHS. None of our manifesto commitments require additional borrowing.

“I’m a small business owner, and I back Labour’s plan.” - Bhavesh, Harrow

2. HIGHER LIVING STANDARDS FOR WORKING FAMILIES
We will freeze energy bills until 2017 and give the regulator the power to cut bills this winter. We will ban exploitative zero-hours contracts, raise the minimum wage to £8, and provide 25 hours free childcare.

“Labour’s plan to raise the minimum wage is so important.” - Debbie, North Warwickshire

3. AN NHS WITH THE TIME TO CARE
We will build an NHS with the time to care: 20,000 more nurses and 8,000 more GPs. We will join up services from home to hospital, and guarantee GP appointments within 48 hours and cancer tests within one week.

“Our NHS needs a Labour government.” - Katy, Nurse

4. CONTROLS ON IMMIGRATION
People who come here won’t be able to claim benefits for at least two years, and we will introduce fair rules making it illegal for employers to undercut wages by exploiting workers.

“I back Labour’s plan to end the exploitation of migrant workers.” - Fred, Bedworth

5. A COUNTRY WHERE THE NEXT GENERATION CAN DO BETTER THAN THE LAST
We will reduce tuition fees to £6,000, guarantee an apprenticeship for every school leaver who gets the basic grades, and ensure smaller class sizes for 5, 6 & 7-year-olds.

“Labour has a plan to back the next generation.” - Jane and Libby
